Palaeolithic (or Old) Stone Age	Mesolithic (or Middle) Stone Age	Neolithic (or New) Stone Age
The Palaeolithic period was significantly longer than any other time in the Stone Age and any other period in human history. In Britain, it is thought to have started around 800,000 BC. At this time, people were hunter-gatherers and moved on to live in a different place once they had hunted and gathered all the food available.	The Mesolithic period started in Britain from around 8000 BC around the end of the last Ice Age. People were still living as hunter-gatherers but towards the end of this time in the Stone Age, people started to learn about agriculture.	People started to live in permanent settlements having been introduced to agriculture by people migrating from Europe.

Seal Homework Autumn 1

Over this half term you need to complete 3 activities, you can do these in any order, but it must include Maths, Literacy and Topic. Please hand your homework in or send a photo of it on Class Dojo.

The first homework must be completed by Thursday 17th September, the second by Thursday 1st October and the third by Thursday 15th October.

Don't forget that daily reading, weekly spellings and regular times tables practise is part of your homework in Year 3 and 4.

Maths - 3 tasks have been set on your My Maths account, and you need to complete all tasks for this to count as a homework. Send a message on Class Dojo to get additional tasks added.

English - Imagine you are a child living in the Stone Age. Write a diary entry about your day. Describe where you live, what you eat, your daily chores, or any exciting adventures you have.

History - Look at the Stonehenge website. Create a poster or leaflet with information about visiting the site and interesting facts. Add colour, sketches or pictures.

DT - Create a prehistoric-inspired necklace using everyday materials such as beads, shells, twigs, string, or clay. Take inspiration for the Stone Age and use your imagination to design something similar.

Thank you, Miss Mitchell
