Flushing C of E Primary School

WEEK ENDING: 19th September 2025

Dear Parents/Carers,

This week the children have been challenged by the diocese to write some Harvest poetry. The entries will be sent to the cathedral next week and will be displayed in the cathedral during October so do look out for Flushing's entries if you are in Truro. It has been a real whole school effort with the children sharing their poems with other classes. I am so proud of their creativity.

Thankyou to everyone who came into school for the Meet the Teacher meetings this week. It was lovely to see you all. If you couldn't make it, please see dojo and the websites for the slides from the meetings.

If you haven't already, please take a look at our website which has been recently updated. We have a new promotional video of the school thanks to Mr Moran. We will be holding an Open Morning for people who would like to consider Flushing School on Weds 8th October from 9.30-10.30. Please let your friends and family know.

With best wishes for the weekend,

Mrs Power

WALT include a range of autumn vocabulary in my writing.

Everywhere I looked, the forest seemed to glow with the colours of autumn.

The sunset yellow sun is shining down on me when I was walking for a long and a squirrel just on the ground in front of me. Leaves are falling down on the floor and I like best of all the ruby red leaves and the sun is making everything yellow. The golden sun light is making me warm and it is beautiful there and the trees are making shade. Beautiful sun is shining on me and the leaves are making the floor covered. And the wind is whispering from its beautiful. And then I went back home to mum and dad. Then I went to the forest again and it was wild like a fox about to go away to eat something one time or tomorrow day I go there again and again into it day even when I'm a granny I still remember the happy forest when I was young and when I was 102.
