

FLUSHING SCHOOL NEWSLETTER

February 13th 2026

Dear Families,

We have had a busy week in school celebrating Safer Internet Day and Children's Mental Health Week with special worships, poster competitions and lessons.

The KS2 children tuned in to the national assembly on internet safety and AI this week and have made some great information posters. You can see the winners on the next page.

The theme for Children's Mental Health Week this year is 'Belonging' and in worship, we have talked about why it is so important for our wellbeing to feel like we belong to our families, community, clubs and our school family. It is particularly lovely to hear from some of our newer children as to how quickly they have felt welcomed and feel that they belong in our school family.

Please can I give a gentle reminder regarding uniform. The last few weeks, we have seen a few children wearing trainers on non PE days. I understand that there are times when children may have broken/grown out of school shoes and do let us know if this is the case.

PE days are as follows:

- Dolphins- Tues/Weds
- Seals – Weds/Thurs
- Starfish – Tues/Thurs

Also, a reminder that long hair should be tied back and no jewellery other than stud earrings should be worn for safety reasons.

Best Wishes for a restful break next week and thank you for all your support this half term,

Mrs Power

Adie and the Knockers

Once upon a time, in the heart of Cornwall there lived a young miner named Adie. Every morning, she worked hungrily, waiting for her pasty in the depths of the Great Tin Mine. Searching for colourful gems buried deep within the earth.

I'm Adie. I was named after my grandfather Adie Madison, I'm 11 years old. I'm almost 12 in March, its still winter. We wake up at four, me and my brother walk to the mine together. (Meanwhile, are my parents get to stay in bed my mom said it builds character. I don't understand that because I've never been to school before.)

Every morning, before she descended into the dark cold mine, she would bring three Cornish Fairings with her. Down in the dark mine, Adie had a peculiar habit, she would always leave the crumb behind for the mystical creatures known as the Knockers.

Later that day, as she swung her pick with determination something very unusual caught her eye, it sparkled in the dim damp light. IT WAS A CLUMP OF AQUAMARINE! Adie couldn't believe her luck. With each swing of her pickaxe she uncovered more and more of precious gems.

The word spread like children running in a playground, and soon Adie's discovery was the talk of the town.

But Adie's fortune didn't change who she was. Instead of forgetting about the Knockers, she decided to gather all her riches and make a reading corner with pillows, a rug and candles anybody that worked in the mine could come and relax.

The miners and Knockers surprised by Adie's kindness found out that it was her that soon so they organised a party for her.

At the party, there was pasties, cake and Cornish Fairings. And right at the end of the party the Knockers presented Adie with five gold coins. She jumped up high and shouted "THANK YOU!"

And Adie never forgot about the mysterious Cornish Fairies that brought good luck.

Arthur and the Knockers

Once upon a time, on the coast of Cornwall, there lived a boy called Arthur. Every day he went into Wheal Gold Mine. Arthur looked for precious treasures in the ground. Every month he would bring a cream teacup and saucer I am behind, for the Knockers. His brother told him to look after the Knockers.

The Knockers were tiny and funny creatures that lived in the mine. They liked to play tricks on the miners but they liked Arthur because of his kindness and generosity.

One day Arthur swung his pickaxe, he saw something as white as the moon—a pearl or quartz. His eyes opened wide. He could not believe it was real quartz! Every swing uncovered more of the white crystal.

The news spread like the sea had come in from the beach. Soon all the miners suddenly looking for quartz! Above ground everybody was cheering.
